Our Board

Shri. Nikhil Sen

Shri. Nikhil Sen belongs to that rare breed of professional leaders in today's business world... a one-organization man, who has then moved on to becoming a successful business entrepreneur with Unibic Biscuits India. He has risen from the role of a Management Trainee in Britannia through the sales team culminating in his appointment as Head of domestic as well as exports sales in 1990. He also managed the marketing function of one of India's most visible and vibrant companies. In early 2000, after business leadership stints in the SBUs he has raised to lead one of India's most trusted brands and most sought after Food companies. With a sales turnover of around Rs.15 billion and profits of around Rs.2 billion as Chief Operating Officer. He then moved on to become a founder share holder for Unibic Biscuits in India. Under his stewardship the company has been able carve a niche for itself at the premium end of the cookie market. Shri. Nikhil Sen is a strategist of repute. When Britannia was, despite its highly visible state, becoming a niche player in the premium segment Mr. Sen is credited to have co-authored the strategy of re inventing brand Britannia and launch of Tiger brand in the mass market. Tiger is India's very own creation and contribution to the Biscuit world and its mercuric rise and mammoth success is believed to have led Britannia's Global associate to invite Mr. Sen and his team to the South East Asian countries to replicate Tiger in those countries. His strategic initiatives include "Britannia for a life time" which made the brand relevant to various age groups through a detailed cohort analysis. This resulted in Britannia successfully straddling both ends of the spectrum i.e. health and staples on the one hand fulfilling hunger appeasement and snacking and indulgence fulfilling oral gratification on the other.
